

O'Neill Lauds Employees And Various Departments Of Town For Constructive Cooperation

Thomas J. O'Neill, Chairman of the Board of Public Works and candidate for reelection, is profuse in his gratitude to the employees of the Board and to the heads of many of the other departments of the Town. It is good to see a man not only willing but anxious to give public recognition to those who have helped make his enviable record possible.

O'Neill says "the morale of the employees of the Board of Public Works was never higher." He substantiates this by pointing to (Continued on Page Six)

Board Of Public Works Adopts Policy Of "Pay As You Use" In Collection Of Water Bills

Under the present Water Department Regulations minimum water bills are rendered quarterly in advance in the amount of $2.50 for an allowance of 1250 cubic feet per quarter and excess in previous quarter is charged for at the rate of 20c per 100 cubic feet for the first 10,000 cubic feet consumed.

It appears that this practice of billing in advance is unfair to the property owner in that water is paid for before it is used. This is in direct contrast to the methods employed in billing for other utilities such as gas, electricity, telephone, etc. The time given by the Water Department office in explaining this ambiguous set-up is also a factor that is worthy of consideration.

The greatest confusion arises when property is transferred. It is impossible to render a final bill at that time as the bill has previously been certified in advance by the Water Registrar to the Town Accountant, who in turn has committed it to the Tax Collector for collection.

Proposed Site For Veterans' Housing Declared Unsuitable

According to Architect John Henry Shea, candidate for the Arlington Housing Authority, the veterans are convinced that their best interests are not being served under the membership of the present Housing Authority, which is shown by their selection of the proposed site, which is in the vicinity off he Alewife Brook, which particular area has been known for years as swamp land. When this information was advanced by the chairman of the Housing Authority at the Open Forum held at the Old Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, February 16, the veterans present expressed their dissatisfaction at the selection of this particular site.

In addition, the present Board has shown their lack of understanding of the need as revealed by applications which total close to one thousand, the accommodations that would be provided on the site proposed, is but 124 families, which is merely a gesture toward the solution of the veterans' housing problem.

As any man versed on construction would vouch for, at a site like this, the percentage of construction money that is required to provide necessary foundations and waterproofing work, takes away from the amount of money that is available for dwelling facilities.

The Town of Arlington, on the basis of its assessed valuation and the demand for housing by veterans, as revealed by their applications under the sponsorship of a Board which would be sympathetic to this housing problem, should have asked for the earmarking of sufficient monies from the State Board of Housing, to provide at least eight hundred dwelling units. It would seem deplorable that with all the available land, which possesses far greater possibility as to location, the same has been by-passed or apparently overlooked.

The Town of Arlington is so laid out that any one of these plots would have made a better location, according to Architect Shea, fulfilling all the requirements for accessibility to stores, transportation, schools and churches, plus the added benefit of the elimination of the health menace.

In a recent news release given out through an Arlington newspaper (not the PRESS), issued by the Chairman of the Arlington Housing Authority, the latter makes the statement that the construction plans for this project have been completed and are now out for bids. This has been checked at the State Board of Housing, and found to be in error, according to a statement made this morning by Architect Shea.

MISS WEBSTER WED AT EVENING BRIDAL

At a recent evening ceremony in the First Baptist Church, Arlington, Miss Doris Fay Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dean Webster, and Mr. Gerald John Bois, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bois, of East Boston, were united in marriage. The Rev. Nathan W. Wood was the officiating clergyman. A reception followed the ceremony in the parlors of the church.

Soft pastel shading was a feature of the bridal ensemble, which comprised an ice blue satin gown en traine, with matching fingertip veil of illusion, caught to a seed pearl crown, and a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas, completed the bride's costume. Gowned in rose fuchsia, with bustle bow, Miss Barbara Bron, of Arlington acted as maid of honor, while the bridesmaids, the Misses Claire Sexton and Dorothy Anderson, were lovely in their twin gowns of eiej blue satin, with ostrich plume headdresses matching their costumes. Miss Brown's flowers were fuchsia shaded carnation, and the bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of spring flowers.

Paul Strassel served as best man for Mr. Bois. The ushers included Allan MacCormack and John Laukkanen, of Quincy. The newlywed enjoyed a honeymoon journey to New York and Washington, D. C. Mr. Bois attended Northeastern University.

The 6 municipalities that still adhere to the antiquated method as used in Arlington are: Belmont, Boston, Lexington, Somerville, Newton and Everett.

The regulations under which the Arlington Water Department operates at present, were adopted 75 years ago, in 1847. At that time the Arlington Water Department supplied the following water takers: 259 families; 16 shops; 45 stables; 3 hotels; 4 churches; 3 schools; 1 hose house; and the Town House. At present there are 9000 water services supplying 12,000 families aggregating a population close to 50,000. The regulations in 1874 no doubt were proper at that time, as the inception of a town owned water system had started but 2 years previous in 1872 and it is quite possible that money, on the line, in advance, may have been a necessity.

However, at that time bills were rendered semi-annually; all service was on a fixture basis as meters were not used in Arlington until 1905 and we had no water Lien Act to protect the Town in the case of non-payment or in the event property was transferred.

In this day and age the present method is definitely passe, as both in Town and the Water Department are quite solvent; especially as concerns the Water Department.

In changing the present method of billing to the "pay as you use" method will entail a credit

Wellknown Architect Explains Effect Of State Housing Law

In a recent communication to the PRESS, the wellknown Arlington architect, John Shea, who has over a period of years familiarized himself by intensive study and personal contact with all phases of the housing activities both local and otherwise, makes the statement that although these processes at first may seem cumbersome and bound by certain technicalities, they are the closest approach to democratic processes when administered by those who are cognizant of the great possibilities to the public good.

He refers to the Housing Authorities of the many communities in the state, which are in fact set up by laws independent corporations for the construction and development of housing projects, so that no act of the members shall be cause for financial obligation to the respective cities or towns involved.

The subject of providing additional facilities to relieve the unquestioned shortage of rentable of the advance minimum charge on the next quarterly bill to be rendered. In dollars and cents this would mean a total credit of approximately $22,000. to the water takers of Arlington.

Neither the Town nor the Water Department will lose by this change as it would not be an abatement, but payment of current charges would be deferred until the water as consumed on a quarterly basis—the same method used by other utilities.

apartments, is still of major interest to those who are the victims of the after-effects of World War II. The family and the home are the cornerstone of this democracy, and whenever this important fact is not properly subscribed to the nation suffers.

The means to alleviate to some degree the mounting shortages were taken when state legislation as approved as of April 6, 1948, relative to housing, known as Chapter 200 of Acts of 1948. This approved housing legislation is described as follows: "An Act to provide financial assistance by the Commonwealth to Housing Authorities in order to alleviate the housing shortage for veterans."

The principal value of the acceptance by cities and towns of the provisions of the Act, is the possibility of expediting the construction of needed housing for veterans, through the Housing Bond issues, for the respective projects, said Bond issue bearing the guarantee of the credit of the Commonwealth.

The value of this credit backing means that the conservative investor will take advantage of this activity as a safe and prudent investment field, as the element of speculation has been practically eliminated, and further that the money needed for construction maintenance and administration of the completed projects will be advanced by this method of financing at low interest cost, and through the method of amortization, as approved, the projects are not to cost the taxpayers anything, as the income from rentals set will pay off the principal and carrying charges. The period of amortization has been set at twenty-five years, at the end of which period the property can be sold in the open market to the highest bidder, unless conditions warrant this provision at an earlier date.

The acceptance of this Chapter 200 by the Town of Arlington, at the Special Town Meeting, held on June 28, 1948, made the sum of $1,728,000 available for these housing facilities.

This sum was based on a specified percentage of the assessed valuation of the town. This method of allocation of available appears rather strange, it would seem that the demand for houses, plus the ability to meet the demand for houses, plus the ability to meet the financial obligations would prove a more equitable process.

ELECTRICITY

quantities

There's no way to store up a big quantity of electricity in advance to meet the peak demands of the "rush hours". Electricity has to be made the very instant you flip a switch to turn it on — any second of the day or night. This means that generating capacity must be kept ahead of the maximum demand at all times. There you have a basic reason for the million kilowatt construction program now being carried out by your electric companies here in New England — a program to provide New England with the facilities to produce four million kilowatts of electrical energy by 1952.

experience and accomplishments I have the ability to perform any duties falling upon this office I am seeking in the BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS which will benefit the Taxpayers

As you may or may not know the present incumbent of this office who is running for reelection has started what may develop into a serious situation in our Town. He has resorted to the so called political high-pressure methods of dealing with Town Employees. He also, resorted to strong arm tactics in past dealings with a member of the Board

(Political Advertisement)

Public Works.
An undercurrent feeling of dissatisfaction has openly appeared among many of the employees of the Public Works Department thereby causing the efficiency of the Department to take a serious slump due to these tactics.

This condition if continued can result in a serious situation to our Town. Carelessness and waste will continue.

The present small high pressure clique of which the present incumbent is a member will grow until all elective town offices are either members of or under the control of this clique.

Voters of Arlington, NOW IS THE TIME TO STOP THIS GROWING MENACE.

Dispose of the present incumbent seeking re-election, and vote for a man the clique will not intimidate. A man who has no political axe to grind at the expense of the Taxpayers. A man of unquestionable ability and experience to the office of BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

If elected to this office, of course my firm would be ineligible to accept town work, high in the past has been a sizeable account. I offer this, among other facts, as proof of my sincerity in seeking this office.

the fact that "over twice as much work has been done at less cost to the taxpayer." In fact, in practically every department under his chairmanship, O'Neill states it was possible to RETURN money from the original appropriations and NOT ONCE to ask for additional funds. This is so unusual that it is startling. Only satisfied, zealous, properly directed employees could accomplish this amazing feat.

Another innovation that deserves the plaudits of the citizens, is the sensible decision to cooperate fully with other departments in the use of equipment. Instead of the Park Department, for instance, HIRING a roller, a bulldozer, truck, etc., for six to twelve dollars an hour, while the Board of Public Works might have this equipment idle at the Town yard, O'Neill says, "Let the Park Department or other departments, use them and just change their operating costs of a dollar or so an hour." This same idea has been carried out with the Tree Department, the Police Department, the Fire Department, Cemetery Department, and the School Department. These departments also cooperated in reciprocating by use of some of their equipment when feasible. Through this cooperation each department is saving thousands of dollars of our tax money. The letters on file from these departments are most fervent in their gratitude. That's practical, intelligent, economy.

Further economy is intelligently exercised in the purchase of supplies. Before O'Neill's chairmanship, a large percentage of supplies were bought at RETAIL prices. Now they are purchased by bids, at wholesale, or in some cases directly from the manufacturer. Thus it has been possible to repair, overhaul, and paint all the equipment at great savings. In fact on the paint alone a very "interesting" story could be told. By the way, it is the first time in years that all the equipment has been painted and in such perfect operating condition.

When O'Neill's opponent, Mr. Rawson, makes his various insinuations, O'Neill's supporters point to the RECORD. Many of O'Neill's supporters feel that the fact that Rawson received $3,000.54 in 1946; $3,667.39 in 1947; $4,306.36 in 1948; for truck hire and nothing in 1949, is one of the main reasons for his candidacy against O'Neill. With the Town trucks doing the work now and the Tree Department, and others cooperating, there is little necessity for hiring equipment. What little is hired is mostly from veterans.

When Tom O'Neill is asked why he doesn't have large signs and other expensive forms of advertising to further his campaign, as is being used by one of his opponents, he looks surprised. He says, "If my record isn't enough to elect me, then I'll not spend a couple of years salary to be elected to the Board. After all, it pays about $12.00 a week. I use a lot of my own valuable time from my own business. As an interested tax payer and experienced in the work done by the Board of Public Works, I feel that it is my duty to contribute this time. But how would it look if I spent three or four thousand dollars to get a $600.00 a year job? I'm not that silly,—neither are the people".

RECOVERING FROM FALL

John S. Mudge, 77 of 83 Web-cowet Road, is reported in good condition at Symmes hospital where he is recovering from severe head injuries suffered last Monday afternoon when he fell on Parallel Street.

He was removed to the hospital by the Arlington police ambulance shortly after residents of the section reported the accident.

Arlington Masonic Lodges Hold Open House
Arlington Masons and their male adult friends gathered at the Arlington Masonic Temple, on Academy street, on Tuesday afternoon, February 22nd, to enjoy the annual Washington's Birthday open house program held under the direction of the Arlington Masonic Temple Association.
An hour of fellowship preceded the meeting, and following the 15 minute program of organ music conducted by Clarence H. Peterson at two o'clock, the special guests were presented from 2:30 until 3 o'clock, Arthur B. Munroe, special investigator of the Federal government, presented a most interesting and enlightening program, "It's in The Bag," which needless to say, featured unusual card tricks of all kinds.
Wayland P. Blood, of Belmont, gave the address of the day, taking as his subject "Lincoln" Following the address, Mr. Peterson favored with further organ specialties, and refreshments a song-fest held in the banquet hall, brought the program to a close. Sponsoring the affair were Hiram Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Menotomy Royal Arch Chapter, and Russell Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

Charles J. Daley, Jr. Well Experienced In Municipal Planning, Zoning Problems

Charles J. Daley, Jr., candidate for election to the Planning Board, considers city planning the most important of municipal functions.

This is the readjustment and guidance of the physical development of the city with a view to both remedying past mistakes and also guiding its future development so as to prevent the same errors from being made. The widening and straightening of streets is a type of remedial planning. Control over the laying out of new subdivisions looks to the future and attempts to avoid the mistakes which have been made in the past. City planning is an effective means of making the city a more desirable place in which to live, to work, and to play, with a minimum expenditure of money.

Zoning, which is one of the most important phases of city planning, is the division of the city into zones or districts, with different regulations and limitations in each as to the use of private property. Zoning ordinances limit the height of buildings, the percentage by lot area which may be occupied, and the uses to which the building may be put.

Every item in planning program rests on basis of careful study on social engineering—not only beauty in location, but human utility as well.

Capital outlay budgeting involves planning—we have not given enough attention to financial planning—it should not be done impulsively.

Population growth should be adequately anticipated by the following:

1. Amount of unused land.
2. Blighted or arrested districts that may be redeveloped.
3. Change from residential to industrial or business moving in of industries and kind of industry.

No one will question the fact that the automobile has definitely been the major factor in the population growth of Arlington. It is also a fact that it has affected the volume of business done by the large retail stores of Boston because of inaccessibility by reason of congestion and lack of proper parking facilities. Witness the number of large retail stores building sizable branches in neighboring communities which are more accessible to the motorist public and where sufficient parking spaces can be made available.

In the City of New Haven, Connecticut the central business district pays 20 per cent of the total city property tax on only 1-2 per cent of the tax paying area of the city.

Arlington's present Planning Board is acting under the law which was adopted in 1931, although there have been many changes in planning board law the latest of which was enacted in 1947, Arlington has not accepted it.

It is high time we got out of the horse and buggy days and realized the automobile is here to stay and plan for its increasing numbers and incidental increase in population and business it will bring.
